OUR PARTNERS

The BOSS resources are a collaborative effort by eight partners from six European countries: Sweden, Italy, Spain, Slovenia, Turkey and Ukraine. We are a diverse group of people, and each newsletter we will present one local team you can contact if you want to collaborate.

STEP Institute from Slovenia

STEP is a research and training organisation that is developing innovative methods for people's potential, to help them engage better in their environment and adjust to an ever-changing society. We are an interdisciplinary team of experts active in fields ranging from design thinking methods, entrepreneurial competencies and green skills, to circular economy, mental health care, emotional and artificial intelligence, and the development of a growth mindset. In the BOSS project, we are involved in the creation and piloting of content, and we are responsible for the quality assurance of the project deliverables.

COORDINAMENTO DONNE NEL MONDO from Italy

The association was founded around the idea of dialogue between people and especially women of different cultural traditions, to support them in times of difficulty, to guide them in their careers and in understanding each other. In addition, one of our main goals, is to promote women as drivers of society's development, thus ensuring gender equality. We are very attentive to economic and cultural changes and seek to contribute to a new inclusive system. In particular, with our qualified working group, we have an interest in intensifying exchanges of ideas and projects, and initiating initiatives in the international arena.
